

Action Day – April 14th 2012

Report by Robert Briggs
Photographs by Margaret Adnitt

Our April working morning was put back one week to avoid the Easter holiday.

The morning was spent working on the Harris Garden which was looking very colourful with some of the plants in flower in the raised bed.

A general tidy up of the area with weeds removed along with two new flowering shrubs and two climbing roses planted alongside the wall.

Support wires were also fitted to the wall to trail the roses along once they are established.

These new plants have been carefully selected for their colour and scent that they will produce when in flower.

We are very grateful for the family of a past Lane End resident who kindly donated the funds to cover these new plants for future generation to enjoy.

With 8 willing helpers litter picking was also carried out around the area.
