

Action Day – August 6th 2011

report by Robert Briggs, Photos by Margaret Adnitt and Pauline MacTavish

Our August action day was attended by 12 willing helpers and after the very hot days during that week it was good to have a little cooler weather for working.

Most of the group returned to footpath clearance on Four fields where the steps leading down from the road to the footpath was cleared of all the Ivy and grass, that had covered the steps making it difficult to use.

We also worked on cutting back with power and hand tools the overgrown areas of the footpath that we did not have time to undertake in July which included clearing away a dead tree that was part blocking the path.

Work also took place on the Harris Garden clearing the weeds and tidying the borders.

Once again another good morning's work and thank you all who lent a hand during the morning.
