

Action Day – August 3rd 2013

Report by Robert Briggs

Four Fields footpath had become very overgrown during this warm spell of weather. So on this warm and sunny morning and with eleven helpers, we worked on hedge trimming, and cutting back with power and hand tools. The footpath looked very clear after our good morning's work.

The Harris Garden was also weeded and the roses pruned on the Friday. It was very disappointing to see that a number of new plants that were purchased and placed around the edges of the raised bed had been stolen.
